Thanksgiving 2014

Dear Friends,

This holiday season as we gather close friends and dear family from near and far around the dinner table to celebrate, reflect and give thanks, we would like to take a moment to show our gratitude as well.

To the hundreds of guests who have passed through our doors and become dear friends before heading home, to the unheralded heroes who sacrifice so much working tirelessly in the background to make this house possible, to those who have received a second chance at life, to our friends we have shared quiet moments and tears with, to those who have conquered the greatest of obstacles, to the people whose positive presence uplifts an entire house, to those trail blazers and dreamers who make the impossible possible and to those like my mother who have recently left us yet inspire us on a daily basis – we salute you, thank you, love you and will never forget you!

During this holiday season, we also ask for your help so that we may continue to provide this caring non-profit home away from home to future transplant families as well as so many of our familiar friendly faces who return on a regular basis for check-ups. Assistance ranging from donated household supplies that are used on a daily basis, to help keeping the house warm and comfortable during these chilly winter months, to financial contributions to keep the doors open and for future expansion and renovations. Your support on any and all levels is so appreciated and critical.

As we travel the state on a regular basis to speak with groups about this house that serves residents of all parts of Wisconsin and beyond, we are constantly amazed at the outpouring of support and kindness. If you are aware of any community-minded groups, foundations, clubs, businesses or individuals who would be interested in learning more about Restoring Hope Transplant House and how we are serving their community, please have them contact me. Sharing our story and the stories of our guests is one of my greatest joys!

With a thankful heart,

Cindy Herbst
